

Dear breeders!

You are reminded that, in accordance with the FIFe rules, all kittens born must be registered in Felis Britannica.

The registration must take place before the kittens are registered with any other organisation.

If a cattery is found in which kittens have not received registration in Felis Britannica, and a pedigree issued; or if the kittens have been registered elsewhere, prior to registration with Felis Britannica, the registered owner of cattery concerned will face disciplinary proceeding.

This may result in cancellation of the cattery name with FIFe and the cancellation of your membership.
